PROCLAMATION ISSUED TODAY

Recommending Red Cross
be Used as an Auxiliary

THAT FUNDS BE SENT DIRECT

TO BUILD A NEW CITY ON THE RUINS OF THE OLD

Every Effort of Courageous Citizens of San Francisco Will Now be Directed.

Washington, April 25.—President Roosevelt issued a proclamation this afternoon to the effect that the need of employing the Red Cross, save as an auxiliary, has passed, and urges that hereafter all contributions from any source, be sent direct to James D. Phelan, chairman of the finance committee, at San Francisco. Dr. Devine, of the Red Cross, will disburse any contributions sent to him through ex-Mayor Phelan, and will work in accord with him in all ways. The President, fearing the citizens might take offense at his former proclamation, explains that at the moment, no one could tell how soon the citizens could organize themselves, and to tide over the interval the Red Cross was designated to receive and disburse the funds, and says the people of San Francisco with an energy and self-reliance, courage, cool resourcefulness, and capacity for organized and orderly endeavor, are beyond all praise.

San Francisco, April 25.—At dawn this morning conditions began to look normal. Such marts of trade as remain unburned are opening for the transaction of ordinary business, temporary structures are being run up for the accommodation of others, clearing of the devastated area of its ruins is well under way, the inquiry into the condition of the bank vaults is completed, the organization and preparation for service of the street railways are so far advanced that the company expressed its readiness to resume business as soon as the mayor would permit. The water company announced the completion of such repairs as enabled it to supply a total of 12,000,000 gallons daily.

In fine, there is all the evidence to put at rest now and forever the fears of those who predicted that San Francisco would never rise again.

The energy, the good sense, the courage with which the army and the citizens have arranged things are admirable. This chapter in the history of California is as dazzling and as wonderful as the story of the Argonauts. No one would have thought it of the careless, modern city. It is now strongly probable that the ashes of this ruined city will give birth to the San Francisco beautiful, planned by Daniel Burnham.

Definite steps towards this end have been taken by a group of citizens.

Chief W. R. Barnett, one of the leaders of this movement, says all the funds needed for the work will be forthcoming just as soon as the committee is ready to begin its work. Telegrams have been sent all over the country explaining the plans of the committee and great men of finance have expressed their willingness to co-operate in the great work and advance any funds that are needed.

The work will commence right at the water front. This district will be entirely rebuilt on new and modern as well as picturesque lines. It is estimated that the work right there will cost $25,000,000. New wharves and the like will be constructed on entirely different lines and new depots will be built.

The exodus from Oakland is assuming large proportions every train out of the city is crowded. While thus far amply able to take care of all the refugees from San Francisco the departure of hundreds to other parts of the state gives an assurance heretofore not felt that the food supply will not run short. Tents continue to be thrown up in Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, to accommodate the hundreds who still are coming there from San Francisco.

Seven car loads of potatoes arrived this morning from Salt Lake City, the consignment representing donations of the school children of that city, all of whom were asked to give five potatoes each.

The dynamiting of walls continues. At a meeting of the general committee today the president of the board of health reported the city's sanitary condition absolutely under control, with but forty cases of smallpox. Today three street car lines are in operation. Sixty relief stations now are in operation and confiscation of stores has stopped.

All places of business except saloons are advised to reopen.

The rupture between state and national troops is growing more serious hourly.

President Wheeler of the University of California, will endeavor to have the national educational association meet at Berkeley in July, with the Greek theater as the chief meeting place as it will be impossible for the convention to meet in San Francisco.

NO CHINESE DISCRIMINATION.

Washington, April 25.—General Funston telegraphs the war department that there has been no discrimination against Chinamen. He says: "In reference to any report that the Chinese are not receiving proper attention in the matter of supplies and protection, there have been no reports of such nature made at these headquarters."

URGES APPROPRIATIONS.

Washington, April 25.—President Roosevelt this afternoon sent a message to Congress, urging appropriations for the rebuilding of minor government buildings at Frisco. He said he later would submit appropriations desired for the big government buildings.

THE MORTALITY LIST.

Oakland, Apr. 25.—While the mortality list is still placed at 1000 by Coroner Walsh, only about 300 bodies have been recovered and buried by the coroner's assistants. Seven of the careless, modern city. It is now strongly probable that the ashes of this ruined city will give birth to

FIFTY THOUSAND FOR FRANCHISE

Demand of Telephone man
by Garry Herrmann

FOR CINCINNATI FRANCHISE

ACCORDING TO TESTIMONY OF JOHN
DOWNEY WEDNESDAY MORNING

Before the Drake Investigating Committee Which Has Resumed
Its Work.

Cincinnati, April 25.—John J. Downey of Terre Haute, Ind., testified before the Drake committee today that Garry Herrmann had demanded $50,000 of Downey for a telephone franchise. Herrmann is Geo. B. Cox's right hand man, and is a well known capitalist and sporting man. Downey said he was interested in an effort to obtain an Independent Telephone franchise to connect Kentucky lines with Cincinnati. Downey told Herrmann that he didn't have the money but would pay after the franchise was granted. Later Herrmann told him the deal could not be put through for less than $75,000, the money to be put in a third party's hands, and paid to Herrmann after the franchise was granted. Herrmann said he could pass it over Mayor Fleischmann's veto, according to Downey.

SEC. METCALF IN CHARGE.

San Francisco, April 25.—Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor, Victor J. Metcalf, has arrived from Washington. Hereafter he will be in charge here as the personal representative of the President.

Less Than Thousand Dead.

Coroner William Walsh estimated that the total number of dead will not be less than 1,000. His estimate is made up from all the data he has been able to collect. General Greely officially limits the number of dead in San Francisco to 277.

A welcome relief to the officials and citizens of San Francisco is the announcement that the Southern Pacific railroad will aid in any way the work of tearing away the debris. The railroad officials are ready to build a track through the heart of the devastated city from Harrison street to the bay and to run their flat cars in for the wreckage that must be removed before new buildings can arise and normal conditions can be restored. In this great work, it is announced, that between 3,000 and 4,000 men will be employed. The railroads will carry the debris wherever the authorities want it taken, and by so doing will make possible the performance of the enormous task that has been terrifying to those who looked forward to it with the knowledge that it must be done, however tremendous.

CARNEGIE IN OHIO TO VISIT KENYON

WHERE HONORARY DEGREE OF
L. L. D. WILL BE CONFERRED UPON HIM.

Drake Investigating Committee Resumes Work—Governor Pat-tison's Appointments.

Newark, O., April 25.—The grand jury which has been investigating the methods of the alleged bridge trust and which made its report recently, returned indictments against some of the most prominent businessmen in Ohio. Those indicted are H. G. Hammond, Henry Hughes, W. H. Lyons, A. C. Low, W. N. Cleveland, W. W. Mills, J. H. Hilton, H. E. Williams and W. C. Laiblin, representing the Canton Bridge company, the Massillon Bridge company, the Bellefontaine Bridge and Iron company, the Mt. Vernon Bridge company, the Brackett Bridge company, the Variety Iron Works and the Illinois Bridge company. The indictment charges that the men named met in this city April 25, 1904, when bridge contracts were to be let, and carried out the purpose of a trust by increasing the price of bridge and structural iron work and preventing competition.

Before Drake Committee.

Cincinnati, O., April 25.—Before the Drake investigating committee Burton C. Hollister testified that he was told by Alex Cunningham, president of the Lohr Coal company, that before his company was able to secure a contract with the city it was necessary to give money to a certain counselman. After handing a package of money, which the witness thought contained either $1,500 or $2,500, to the counselman, Cunningham was notified to visit the City hall, where he at once signed a contract for coal. Testimony by Isaac M. Jordan tended to confirm the statement of Hollister. E. O. Eschely, president, and John L. Steele, business manager of the Commercial Tribune, and C. H. Rembold, manager of the Times-Star, testified to the payment to county sheriffs of commissions on collections for county advertising.

Carnegie in Ohio.

New York, April 25.—Andrew Carnegie, accompanied by a party consisting of Colonel John J. Cook, President Butler of Columbia university and Richard Watson Gilder, left for the west. The party goes by way of Cleveland to Kenyon college, Gambier, O., where Mr. Carnegie has founded a chair of economics in honor of Edwin M. Stanton, secretary of war in President Lincoln's cabinet, who was a graduate of Kenyon college. On April 26 Mr. Carnegie will deliver at Kenyon an address on the life of Mr. Stanton and subsequently the honorary degree of L. L. D. will be conferred upon him.

Pattison's Appointments.

Columbus, O., April 25.—Governor Pattison directed Secretary Houck to announce the appointment of John S. Snook of Paulding as common pleas judge to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Hubbard; also William L. Finley of Kenton to be state inspector of oils for the term of two years from May 15. The appointment of Finley was made under the White law, which abolished the two districts and the positions held by John R. Malloy of Columbus and Frank Baird of Toledo.

A NEW MOVE BEEN DEVISED

By President John Mitchell of United Mine Workers

WILL AVERT COAL STRIKE

MEETING OF SCALE COMMITTEE MAY
FORMULATE MODIFIED DEMANDS

A Satisfactory Adjustment and a Resumption of Mining Is Expected.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 25.—A strike of the 160,000 miners in the anthracite coal region may be generally regarded as unlikely, for new and important moves in the negotiations between the operators and miners are being devised today by John Mitchell and the general scale committee, which will doubtless lead to a satisfactory adjustment of all pending differences and a resumption of mining for a term of years. Despite the tone of finality in the last reply of the operators declining the miners' proposition and indicating that both sides had come to the parting of the ways, Mitchell and members of the scale committee have strong hopes of a settlement and purpose submitting a new proposition to the operators which will make it possible for negotiations to be continued along lines which the miners believe should especially result in an agreement. Until today the best opinion inclined to the belief that the miners' committee would make no further move to resume negotiations with the operators, but with the coming of Mitchell the atmosphere changed.

The meeting of the scale committee will probably occupy several days in view of the fact that the new proposition will contain several modified demands. What these demands will be in their definite form is largely conjectural.

The demand that will receive the greatest consideration is that affecting wages. There is a strong disposition among the committeemen to modify the wage demand so that the increase asked will only apply to company men, whose wages vary from $7 to $11 a week. These are about 50,000 of these company men trying to support families on their wages. Members of the scale committee feel that the operators cannot refuse to grant these men an increase of at least ten per cent. The elimination of the miner and his laborer from the wage demand has resulted from the scale declarations made by these classes of mine employees that conditions are quite satisfactory to them.

Under the award of the 1902 anthracite strike commission, company men received anywhere from $1 to $1.25 a day, and in the last three years they have been forced to meet increased rents and large advances in food commodities. An average increase of a dollar a week to this army of men would mean much to their material well being.

The new proposition will probably not contain the demand for the "check-off" system. The demand for the eight hour day for outside men will doubtless be modified so that it will be only applied where the operators feel that it can be made effective without loss or disarrangement of the mechanical economies of the colliery. Instead of one year agreement which was the last suggestion of the miners, a binding agreement for two years will probably be asked for. Those modified demands can admit of nothing but acceptance by the operators according to those who have the best information from the officials of the coal companies.

BLEW UP TRAIN WITH DYNAMITE

EXPLOSIVE PLACED ON TRACK AND WAS STRUCK BY THE LOCOMOTIVE.

Engineer and Fireman Were Injured.
Believed to be the Work of Malignant Persons.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 25.—A Lehigh Valley railroad freight train was blown up with dynamite on the mountain cut off above Pittston at midnight. The engine and several cars were derailed and wrecked. Engineer John R. Thomas of this city, and Fireman H. Brown of Pittston were injured. It is believed some malicious persons placed a box of dynamite on the track which exploded when the locomotive struck it. The explosion was terrific, throwing the engine and three cars down a steep embankment.

Railroad detectives and the county officials are making a searching investigation. Many coal trains are run over the cut off.

GOVERNOR'S CONDITION

Cincinnati, April 25.—Governor Pattison passed a good night, slept well and is resting comfortably today. He is steadily gaining in health and spirits. The beautiful weather is hopeful.

DIAMETER

Of Crater of Vesuvius Now About Five Thousand Feet.

Naples, April 25.—Professor Matteucci, director of the Royal observatory, succeeded in reaching the crater of Vesuvius. He describes the spectacle there as of great grandeur. The diameter of the crater, which before the eruption was about 100 feet, is now about 5,000 feet. There is no eruption of incandescent stones as before the recent outburst, but a small quantity of ashes is being ejected. The cone which before the eruption rose 600 feet above the sea level, has diminished about 200 feet. Work is being vigorously pushed to re-establish the funicular railway to the observatory.

Auditor of Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., April 25.—W. T. Perkins, city auditor, died suddenly at his home here of brain clot. He had been in poor health for some time. His successor will be a Democrat appointed by Mayor Dempsey.

A REVOLUTION IS FEARED

When Workmen Will Make a Great Demonstration

FEELING BORDERS ON PANIC

IN FRANCE WHERE LABOR AGITATIONS
ARE GROWING IN FEROCITY

Forty Thousand Miners Still on Strike
—Great Meeting Planned for May 1st.

Paris, April 25.—The people of France have been wrought up to a state of apprehension concerning the imminence of a crisis May 1, when all ranks of labor will make a gigantic eight-hour demonstration. It is feared lawless elements may get the upper hand and this inspires the public with a feeling of terror bordering on panic. Some of the newspapers freely assert that the movement is the prelude of a revolution in which the proletariat intends to overthrow the existing regime. Some of the reports picture the business and residential parts of Paris about to be sacked, the streets barricaded, and, in brief, a veritable renewal of the commune.

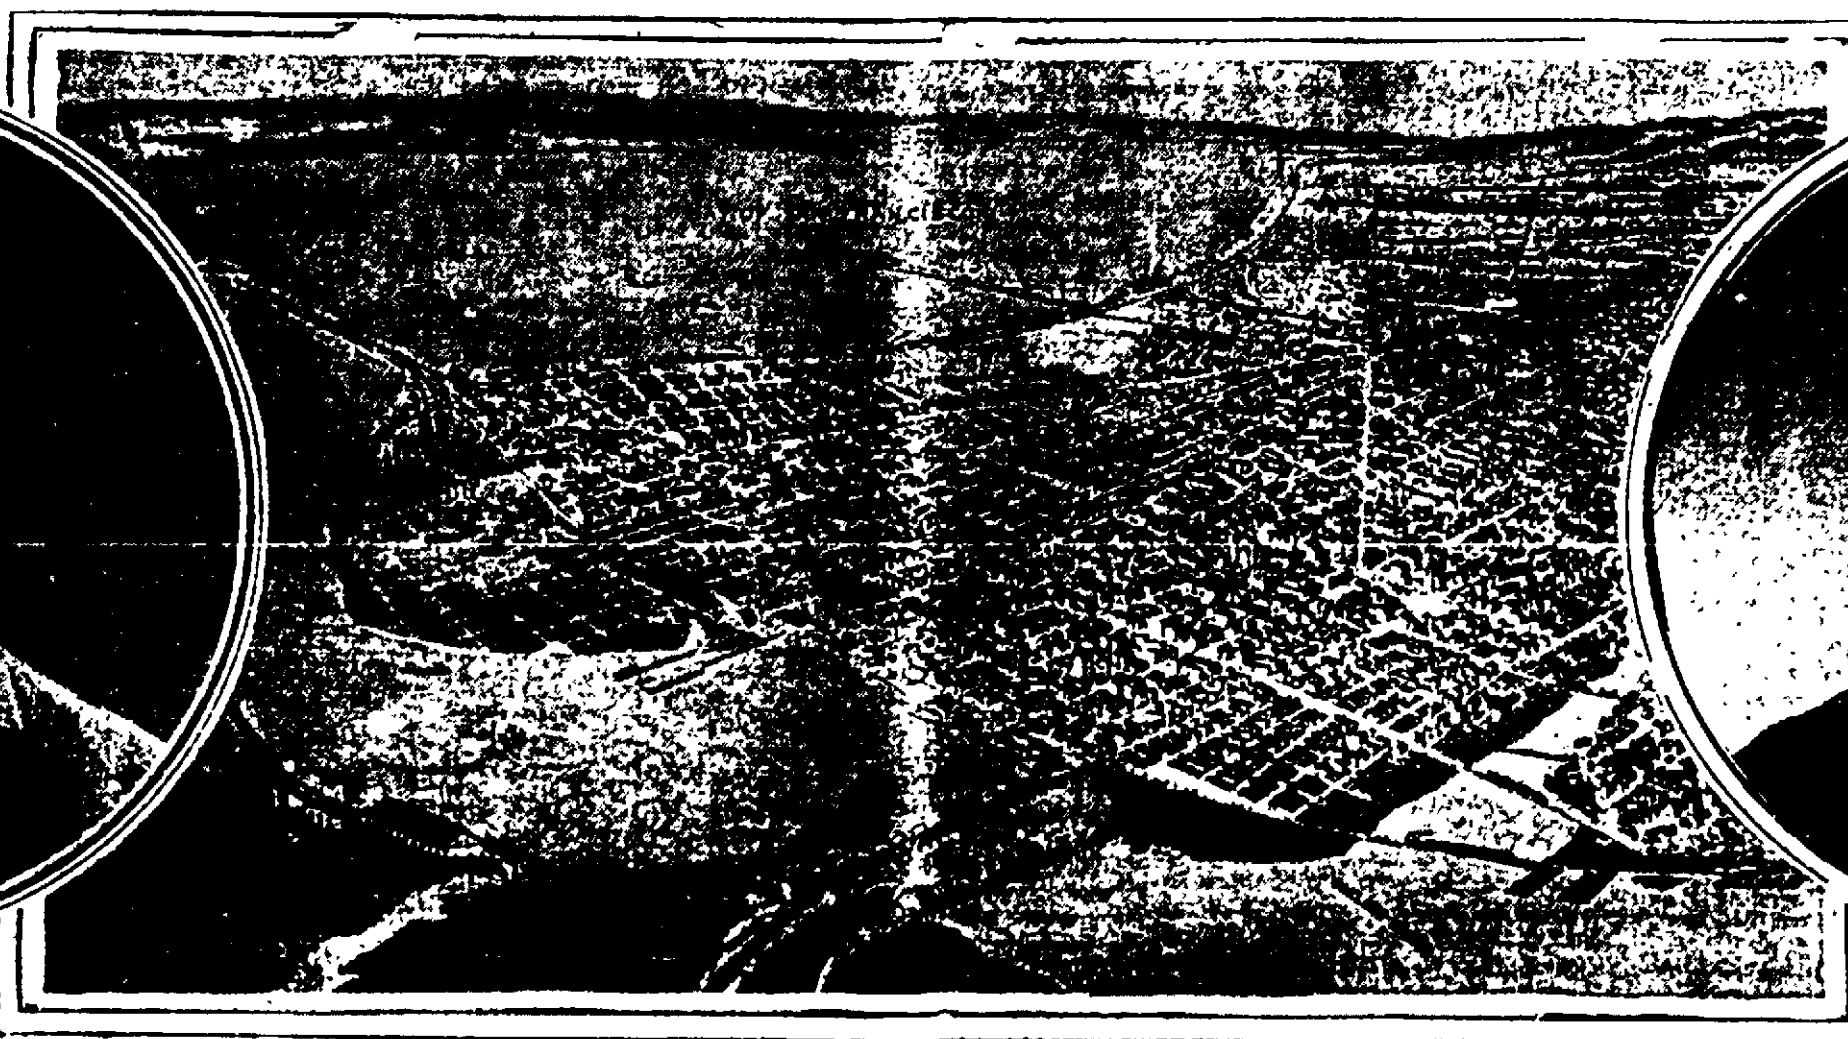

The actual state of the labor agitation is as follows: About 40,000 miners in the north are still on strike and frequent affrays take place, but the presence there of 25,000 troops and wholesale arrests of the ring leaders have measurably restored calm. In the same part of the country the iron and glass workers of Denain are on strike, but most of them resumed work today, owing to the stern repression of the authorities. In Brest all branches of labor have voted for a general strike similar to the general strike at Lorient and at many other points. In Paris the striking postmen have resumed work, but 4,000 book printers, 6,000 employees of the jewelry trades and 4,000 persons employed in the paper trades are still out. These strikes, however, have not been accompanied by rioting. This is a precursor of the national labor movement to be inaugurated May 1, when it is expected that the entire proletariat will quit for a day and perhaps for a longer period of time. The masons and many other branches of labor decided today to quit from May 1 to May 15 without violence. Employees of grocers, dairymen, butchers and bakers and all purveyors of food supplies as well as hotel servants give promise of a decision for a similar cessation of work.

In the meantime the government appears to have awakened to the necessity of stern measures. This is indicated by the assembling of troops. Sixty thousand soldiers will be on duty in Paris May 1. An official communication announces that the ministers (Continued on Page 1, 1th Col.)

SPEED CARS TO RACE ON THE SANDS OF THE ATLANTIC CITY BEACH TODAY.

Atlantic City Beach

Atlantic City, N. J., April 25.—With an entry list that exceeds by a score or more the number of entries received for any previous affair in this country, the Atlantic City tournament to be held this afternoon, Thursday and Friday afternoons, promises to be one of the greatest automobile speed competitions in the history of American motoring.

Aside from ten specially built racing machines, the meet will provide a dozen or more races in which the contestants will drive stock touring cars.

For the twenty-one races scheduled the record trials and the special contests, 58 different cars have been named, while the aggregate entry in the various events numbers 166. Among the speedy racing machines entered are the 30 horse power Grout steamer which Harry Maynes expects to drive in 30 seconds; 80 h. p. Darracq, with William Wallace Jr., as the driver, which covered a mile at Cape May last year in 33 seconds, and many others.

The racing will be held on the fine three mile stretch of beach which has been marked off to give a mile for starting, ample for contest and a mile for slowing down.

Jefferson de Mont Thompson, chairman of the A. A. A. Racing Board, will be honorary referee, while Robert Lee Morrell will be the active referee.

The racing will begin at 2 o'clock when the tide is lowest, and the sport will be continued on Thursday and Friday afternoons, with Saturday left open as a rain date.

Hundreds of motorists and tradesmen from New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other cities have arranged to spend the three days at Atlantic City, so that in attendance, as well as in entries, the tournament bids fair to be the greatest ever held anywhere.

metal to prevent galvanic action. The air terminals to be rods of iron or copper, not less than 3-4 inch in diameter, with cone-shaped point. Large chimneys should have a band of iron or copper not smaller than the conductor, around the top, 6 inches below the corbeling, and provided with points a foot long made from inch rods. Terminals should extend not less than 3 feet above roof or chimney tops.

He then described the very economical and practical method of protecting buildings by running wires over and around them and into the ground. These wires can be put on in such a manner as to be practically invisible and afford excellent protection. The important part is to make the earth terminals properly. The method is based upon correct physical principles and any farmer or house owner may protect his buildings from lightning by its use.

LICKING COUNTY MAN WRITES ABOUT LIGHTNING CONDUCTORS

Walter Castle Has Made Extensive Study Of This Subject from the Stand Point of Practical Farmer—Extracts from Ohio Farmer Article.

The thirteenth of the special articles that are appearing in The Ohio Farmer, from week to week, is upon the subject of "Lightning and Lightning Conductors," and appears in the issue of April 28. It was prepared especially for that paper by Walter Castle of this, Licking county, Ohio, who has made an extensive study of the subject from the standpoint of a practical farmer who desires to protect his buildings from lightning, economically and well. The following are extracts from that article:

"What we call lightning is the brilliant flash of light emitted by the electric spark as it shoots from cloud to cloud or from a cloud to the earth. A lightning flash from cloud to cloud is usually several miles long. A flash from the clouds to the earth is usually shorter but may range from one to three miles in length. The period of time occupied by the passage of a lightning flash has been estimated at about one ten-thousandth of a second. The lightning flash often assumes various shapes as follows: Ball lightning, a very rare form, seen as a ball of fire moving from the clouds to the earth, or rolling along the ground. Chain lightning, broken, zigzag, and often forked flashes. Sheet lightning, a diffused glow from the clouds, faintly illuminating them. Heat-lightning, faint flashes of lightning without thunder, seen on the horizon, usually at the close of a very warm day, appearing as if from the effects of a thunder storm below the horizon.

"To show how expensive these electric flashes are in lives and property, turn to the bulletins of the Ohio Fire Marshal. According to the report furnished to him by two clipping bureaus, during 90 days there were 232 serious accidents caused by lightning. Nineteen persons were killed and 100 stunned. Forty-seven houses were struck and of these 166 were set on fire. These losses were in Ohio alone. The U. S. Weather Bureau, in Bulletin No. 15, published in 1895, gives the losses by lightning for the nine years ending 1893, in the U. S. and for the most part east of the Rocky Mountains as 4,175 fires, causing a money loss of $11,309,015. These figures show how important it is that all due precautions be taken by farmers to protect their buildings from lightning.

The Washington monument is a most conspicuous mark for lightning and has been repeatedly struck; but since a system of copper rods was installed, 15 years ago, no damage has been done to it. From 1388 to 1776 the tower of St. Mark's in Venice, was struck by lightning seven times and seriously damaged; but 14 years after Franklin's discovery a lightning rod was placed upon it and it has never been struck since. The officials of various fire insurance companies consider a rod-dotted building a better risk than one not having rods but make no difference in the rates.

The rodding specifications of the National Fire Protection Association recommends rods with proper earth and air terminals, as follows:

"Pitched roofs of metal, one rod for each 2,000 sq. ft. of ground area. Pitched roof other than metal, one for each 5,000 sq. ft. of ground area. Flat roofs of metal, one for each 5,000 sq. ft. of ground area. Air terminals never more than 50 feet apart and each have its own ground terminals in permanently damp earth. The air terminal is to be placed on the highest point of the structure. Where there are two or more gables, of nearly equal height, each should have an air terminal. Conductors to be in sheet or tape form as electricity is carried on the surface of a conductor; the more surface the better. Copper conductors must weigh not less than 6 ounces per foot; iron, not less than 2 1/2 pounds per foot, and must be galvanized or painted to prevent corrosion. Prof. Lodge says 'the use of copper is a needless expense as iron has advantages over other metals.' All parts of the conductor should be of the same

Women Clean Streets.

Salem, O., April 25.—A party of women residing on Lincoln avenue, a fairly aristocratic thoroughfare at Alliance, turned out en masse with hoes, brooms, shovels, hose etc., and cleaned the main section of the street of the three inch layer of mud which had accumulated during the winter. In spite of imperative appeals, the council and service board had failed to take any steps to clear the street, and the husbands had refused to contribute to the cost of having it cleaned. The women, however, took the function of the servers.

Postoffice Burns.

Canal Dover, O., April 25.—Fire destroyed the postoffice at Parrot, together with the general store of Edw. Wagner and the ticket office of the Canton-Akron and New Philadelphia traction line. All were located in the one building which was burned and which belonged to Wagner, who was postmaster, storekeeper and ticket agent. Mr. Wagner places his loss at $2,500, with $1,500 insurance.

Francis L. Farrell Dead.

Zanesville, O., April 25.—After suffering for the past six weeks with tuberculosis, Francis L. Farrell, aged 30 years, died at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning at the family home on Gilbert street. The deceased is survived by a widow and six children.

Funeral services over the remains took place from St. Thomas' Catholic church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment was made in St. Thomas' Catholic cemetery.

Unknown Man Found Dead.

Niles, O., April 25.—The body of an unknown man was washed up on the river bank about four miles east of here Tuesday. His clothes and hat were found in the bushes nearby. In the lapel of his coat was a button bearing the inscription, "Battery B, First New York Artillery," and on the reverse side the name Garrett Morgan. All indications point to suicide, as there are no marks of violence on the body and considerable money was found in the clothing.

Victoria Banker Dies.

Fostoria, O., April 25.—Charles Olmstead, president of the Merchants' Banking Co., died very suddenly of heart disease. He was prominent in bank affairs of the community for the past 50 years.

Plot Discovered.

Mansfield, O., April 25.—A plot to blow up the Von Hof hotel was discovered Tuesday. By means of rubber tubing, the radiators of the hotel were filled with artificial gas when L. A. Ott, a jeweler, whose room is in the block, lighted a match flame shot up to the ceiling. All the radiators were discovered to be filled and a panic among the guests was narrowly averted.

Another Gas Well.

Mr. Vernon, O., April 25.—Work was commenced Tuesday afternoon drilling the second well on the Miller tract, south of the city. The well is being put down by the Star Oil and Gas company, the drilling being done by Contractor Stratton. This is the second well on the Miller tract, the first having been abandoned when the drill was lost in the hole.

The sun spot theorists are not inactive at this time. Sir Norman Lockyer, the English scientist, and Prof. Archenhold, a German scientist, agree in thinking that sun spots were the cause of both the Vesuvius eruption and the California earthquake.

American emigration into Canada's northwest is constantly mounting to unprecedented figures and there is no indication that the movement has reached its culmination. The Dominion government's latest returns show the total number of immigrants from this county for the nine months ending March 31 last was 30,971, an increase of 5,731 over the same period of the previous year. The industrial prosperity of Canada as a whole in that period was marked by a large increase in the total foreign trade.

ENTERING WEDGE FOR TARIFF REVISION

FEARED BY REPUBLICANS AS EFFECT OF PASSING THE GAINES BILL.

Which Suspends for a Year the Duties on Structural Steel and Other Products.

Washington, April 25.—The bill introduced in the House by Representative Gaines of Tennessee, suspending for a year the duties on structural steel and other materials that will be needed in rebuilding San Francisco, was to be considered today by the Committee on Ways and Means.

Chairman Payne said that, while he had not conferred with other members of the committee about it, he personally favored its passage, and so did General Greaves of Ohio, another member of the committee. It is not at all certain, however, that the bill, if passed, will go through in its present form.

Members of the California delegation, while appreciating the generous impulse which inspired the introduction of the measure, are disposed to question the practical results which would follow its passage. In the first place, they would object to the suspension of the duty on lumber, which is one of the greatest products of California and neighboring states. They say there is no reason for opening up the San Francisco market to the lumber of Canada when the Pacific States can supply every demand of the stricken community. They declare also that San Francisco can supply all the building brick needed in her present extremity.

As for structural steel, one of the members of the California delegation said yesterday: "I have already received assurances from Pittsburgh that preference will be given to all orders for this product that come from San Francisco. The steel mills have orders many months ahead, but special efforts will be made, I am advised, to fill those from California. Structural steel for buildings has to be made to order and it is an American specialty. Comparatively little is made in Europe, where they don't build 'sky scrapers' like they do in the United States. Moreover, it would take about six months to get a ship load around Cape Horn; it would have to come that way because the freight rates across the continent would be too much to pay."

There is no doubt the steel manufacturers of the United States would not relish the passage of the Gaines bill because it might prove the entering wedge of tariff revision. There has been considerable agitation since the organization of the Steel Combine, so-called, for a reduction of the tariff on iron and steel products, and very likely the assurances from Pittsburgh today were inspired, in part at least, by an apprehension of the ultimate effect upon the steel schedules of a temporary suspension of duties, as proposed. There is precedent for the suspension of duties in favor of San Francisco, for Congress did it for the benefit of Chicago more than 30 years ago. However, the tariff situation was not so acute then as it is today.

THERE'S A KNACK

About Knowing What to Eat, to Get All the Good There Is In Your Food and With the Least Effort.

Why Not Eat Less and Digest All You Eat?

The bodies of elderly people especially are worn and easily tired. They need all the strength they can get. Their stomachs especially must be saved from doing too much work. Heavy foods should be avoided.

"I can't get along without it."

A food that demands the least amount of work from the stomach, is the most nourishing and strengthening of all foods.

Such is Hardyfood.

It is the happiest combination of the most nourishing foods in the world, wheat and malted barley.

One need hardly have a stomach to digest Hardyfood. It is so exquisitely nourishing and invigorating.

In making Hardyfood, nothing but the life of the grain is used—all the worthless and indigestible portions are cast out.

Hardyfood makes brain-tissue, bone, muscle-fibre and nerve. It gives the maximum of strength and demands the minimum of digestion.

For old people it renews the strength and vigor of youth, and for the youth it builds a firm foundation for a vigorous frame.

Hardyfood is far superior to bread or biscuits. The very nature of wheat is chemically changed in the oven, on account of the yeast and the heat. Hardyfood is the pure, unadulterated pith of the purest cereals.

Throw away your medicines and cure your stomach trouble by letting Hardyfood have full sway in building up your health.

Too many people eat meat and other heavy foods, and of course they digest a very small percentage of them. Why not eat less and digest all you eat? It will strengthen your stomach and put a smile on your face. Try it.

Hardyfood is delicious and appetizing and can be served in many tempting ways.

ANTON VIETMEIER

Sketch of Prominent Newark Young Molder Who Died Last Saturday of Pneumonia.

Anton J. H. Vietmeier, the subject of this sketch, was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vietmeier, former prominent residents of Newark. He was born in Newark on September 21, 1863, and had resided in Newark all his life.

When quite young he entered the St. Francis de Sales schools, where he remained until he was 17 years old, acquiring a good common school education. After leaving school he entered the old Kibler foundry, where he learned the molder's trade, for which he was peculiarly adapted, having manifested the greatest interest in the art of molding from the time he was a small lad. When he was 21 years old he entered the services of Moser & Wehrle, foundrymen, where he remained until his death, which occurred on last Saturday morning at 2:45 o'clock, after a brief illness of pneumonia. He had taken sick on the Sunday night previous to his death. On Monday he went to work as usual, but was compelled to return home, where he rapidly grew worse until death released him from his sufferings. At about one o'clock on Monday morning he would recover. The funeral services were held on Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the St. Francis de Sales church, and the services were conducted by Rev. Father B. M. O'Boyle, and the interment was made in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

The deceased was married to Miss Grayson Youse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Youse of this city on July 31, 1894. He is survived by his widow and two children, Karl, aged 11, and Martha, aged 5 years. Three brothers and seven sisters also survive him. They are, Edward M. of Sandusky; Charles F., of Columbus; and Matthew of this city; Mrs. Geo. Elliott of Newark; Mrs. D. McManara of Helton; Mrs. Clara Vietmeier of Pittsburgh; and Misses Anna, Mary, Emma and Minnie who live at home.

The deceased was very fond of outdoor sports, such as hunting and fishing, especially turtle hunting, and took great delight in roaming the woods and wandering along the banks of streams with his dogs.

Mr. Vietmeier's family life was ideal. He was a good husband. When work was slack at the foundry he was not idle, but put in his time working in Bellaire and Salem, and in doing odd jobs about town, in order that he might earn the money to pay for his little home, which he succeeded in doing. He was a man of unusual modesty, and only his close friends knew half of the good things he has done and the sacrifice he has made for his fellow creatures. His means were always unlooked to the occasions of those needing assistance, and he had a tear of pity and a hand open as day for charity. His life work should ever remain green in the memory of those who enjoyed his acquaintance and friendship, and his noble example should be the guiding star for the weak and weary pilgrims. He was a life to follow. He was an example to emulate.

FOREIGN RELIEF TAKEN OVER ROOSEVELT'S HEAD

New York, April 25.—The California Club of Women in executive session Tuesday at its club rooms in the Waldorf-Astoria decided to accept donations from foreigners in opposition to the stand taken by President Roosevelt. A resolution to that effect was unanimously adopted.

In part it was as follows: "Whereas, The refusal of the donations of the Hamburg-American Line and others in aid of the California sufferers by President Roosevelt has caused much adverse comment, and while recognizing the ground upon which the refusal was based, namely, that Americans are amply able to take care of the situation, to be absolutely correct, nevertheless we hold that the denial of the right to contribute on the ground of nationality is wrong and harmful and without precedent.

"San Francisco is a very cosmopolitan city, and while we don't under-

The influential bourgeoisie classes demand of the ministry the sternest repression, while the equally influential socialist element demands that there be no interference with the right to strike or with eight-hour demonstrations. The Humanist and other Socialist organs declare that the terror is being systematically worked up on the eve of elections with the purpose of injuring the Socialist poll.

ARRESTS FOLLOW THE FINDINGS

Of the Muskingum County Grand Jury—Several Serious Crimes Are Charged.

Zanesville, April 25.—No less than five arrests, all on serious charges, some of them of a revolting nature, followed the report of the grand jury Tuesday evening. Of these five prisoners who were lodged in the county jail last night by Sheriff Howard F. Elliott and Deputy Sheriff James Little, two are women—Mrs. Clara Cullins and Mrs. Lizzie Brown.

Early last evening the warrants for the arrest of these persons were placed in the hands of the sheriff at the institution of Prosecutor E. E. Power. By 10 o'clock last night all of them had been lodged in the county jail. All of the arrests grew out of the charges made in the Cullins and Brown divorce cases, which were subsequently referred to the grand jury by Judge A. A. Frazier.

Thomas Woodward, father of Lizzie Brown, and John Woodward, a brother, and Mrs. Brown herself, are all charged with the serious crime of incest. They were taken into custody last night at their home on Pierce street. Charges of this nature were made during the hearing in the divorce case of Charles A. Brown vs. Lizzie Brown, which came up for hearing a few days ago in Common Pleas court.

The other two prisoners are Mrs.

Clara Cullins, wife of Henry Cullins and George Wilson, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Cullins. Both are charged with adultery. The charges in these cases developed during the hearing of Mrs. Cullins' suit for divorce from her husband, charging him with gross neglect, extreme cruelty and drunkenness. Wilson is a widower and it seems, had been living at the Cullins home near Shannon, this county. According to the story of the witnesses in the divorce case Wilson had gone to the Cullins home as a sort of mediator when troubles arose between husband and wife. The pair were placed under arrest at a house on North Fifth street.

DETECTIVES

From Chicago Have Reached the Stricken City to Keep Watch on Eastern Crooks.

San Francisco, April 25.—Commanding a company of 10 detective sergeants identified with the Chicago police department, Lieutenant John D. Hartford reached the city shortly after noon Tuesday and reported for duty to Chief of Police Dinan.

Chief of Police Dinan, with an expression of thanks to the representative of Chief Collins of Chicago, assigned the eastern officers to Captain of Detectives Burnett's command.

They will work with the local detective sergeants and will keep a special watch on eastern crooks who are headed this way with an eye to wholesale looting.

Sergeant of Police Edward, who is suffering from consumption, has been reaching the city since the earthquake shock for the body of his mother whose death followed immediately after the disaster. At noon he found her buried in a trench prepared by the soldiers on the San Bruno road. The officer made arrangements for disinterment of the body and it now rests in the family vault.

"COOKEY" JONES IN CALIFORNIA

WRITES OF EXPERIENCE HE HAD WITH QUAKES AT LOS ANGELES.

The House Shook Like a Rat in the Mouth of a Good, Active
Terrier Dog.

(By O. C. Jones.)

Santa Ana, Calif., April 20.—Mr. A. H. Pierson, Mrs. Pierson, myself and wife were on the third floor at Hotel Vella, 739 South Hope street, Los Angeles, Calif., April 19, at noon, when the earthquake shook Los Angeles. Mr. Pierson and I were arranging a trip to San Francisco to see the city and wanted to experience a shock from an earthquake, but after yesterday we are all satisfied. Mrs. Pierson was sick in bed and Mr. Pierson was writing a letter in his room. Mrs. Jones was writing home about the terrible disaster at San Francisco and I was lying on the bed when the shock struck Los Angeles. I cannot describe it in any better way than this—the house and room shook like a rat terrier would shake a rat in Ohio, and I was scared almost to death and am ready to come back to Ohio.

Mr. Pierson and wife got away at noon Saturday for Newark and Mrs. Jones and I will start Monday for Ohio.

This surely is the worst calamity that ever happened to the Pacific coast and people are leaving by the thousands for the East. Mrs. T. H. Sills left for San Francisco last week and was to go through San Francisco and I hope they have heard from her, as I told her to stop at the Hotel Terminus where we stopped while there, and by the report the hotel went down like an egg shell and killed 20 people. It was just opened in November 1905.

The week we arrived at San Francisco, it was eight stories high, fire proof and would accommodate 1,000 guests.

The governor has declared today and tomorrow legal holidays, so as to keep the school children and clerks in all public buildings out of danger, and I assure you the beautiful state of California is passing three days of deepest anxiety, as they say that when earthquakes come they last about three days, and Saturday will be the third day.

No doubt you all have read most of the news in papers, but I have talked with people who were at San Francisco, San Jose and Selma and they said they would not go through what they did again, as the sights and strain were terrible. Will be in Newark in a few days and will be glad to get back to Ohio. Yours,

"COOKEY" JONES.

As before announced in the Advocate, Mrs. Sites left Frisco before the earthquake occurred and is now at her home in this city. Mr. Pierson telegraphed from Kansas City last night that he and Mrs. Pierson will be home this evening.

Domestic Troubles.

Mayor McCleery listened to a woe-tale in his office Wednesday morning, which came from the lips of one James Click. Click became famous a few years ago when he threatened the life of J. C. Kreig, superintendent of the Children's Home, when the latter attempted to drive him away from the vicinity of the home while Click was hunting.

The story told by Click was rather exciting, and it dealt with his wife, her half sister and her stepfather, Samuel Sinsabaugh. Sinsabaugh and Click engaged in an energetic fist encounter in which Click was pretty badly used up but Sinsabaugh might have been in worse condition as he was not among those present at the mayor's office.

Sinsabaugh's step daughter, Nellie, has been staying with her half sister, Mrs. Click, helping in the housework. She attended a dance Tuesday night, and Sinsabaugh called at the hall and without ceremony took her from the place and demanded that she return home. He ordered her to go to the Click home and get all her clothing, adding that she couldn't stay there. She complied with his request and when she left the house she called for Click to come to her rescue saying that Sinsabaugh was abusing her. Click gallantly responded and the fight to the finish followed.

The result was that the girl went with her stepfather and Click sought the protection of the police. He says his wife is ill and is in no condition to stand any such excitement.

DENISON MAN IS RECOGNIZED

PROF. CHAMBERLAIN'S SCIENTIFIC INVENTION SUBJECT OF COMMENT

Before the Meeting of the American Physical Society at Washington, D. C.

Granville, April 25.—Professor Clark W. Chamberlain, head of the Physics department in Denison university, was returned to Granville from a brief visit to Washington, D. C., where he presented a paper before the American Physical Society upon his remarkable invention for delicate measurements, the Compound Interferometer. Some seventy of the most distinguished men of America in physical science were in attendance at the meeting. The Director of the Government Bureau of Standards, Professor S. W. Stratton, kindly volunteered to bring to the meeting the Torsion Interferometer, which he had constructed from drawings furnished by Professor Chamberlain. It was the second instrument of the kind to be constructed and proved to be of beautiful and costly construction. The deepest interest was shown by the assembled scientists, and especially by the celebrated Professor Lorenz of Holland, who is in this country upon a brief scientific errand. Professor Chamberlain was gratified to find how well known Denison and his work were to some of the foremost scientists present. His own inventions and the work of Dr. C. J. Herriek and the Journal of Comparative Neurology and Psychology which is published from Denison, have given the university an enviable standing among scientific men.

The Granville Historical Society held a meeting Tuesday evening, April 24, at the home of the president, Mrs. Helen A. Rose. Valuable work is being undertaken by the society in preservation of records and in the commemoration of the history of the village.

Prof. C. J. Herriek went to Columbus yesterday to meet others of the committee of Ohio Colleges and medical school on the co-operation of work between the college and the medical school. Dr. Herriek's address at the recent meeting of Ohio Colleges in Columbus upon this subject was recognized as a valuable aid to the solution of the problem.

STATE RESTS IN MURDER CASE; DEFENSE CALLS WITNESSES

Unexpected Progress Made in the Trial of George Kerlin Charged With Killing Charles Higgins—A Divorce Epidemic Seems to be Prevalent in Licking County—Court News.

Frank Pfeiffer, a molder, and Josie Mitchell were the two star witnesses for the defense Wednesday afternoon. Both gave strong testimony to show that Kerlin was in the house at the time of the shooting.

Russell Legge, the clerk of the coroner at the time of the murder, was the first witness of Wednesday afternoon. In the Kerlin murder trial, the witness identified the copy of the coroner's report. He was asked if McLaughlin said at the coroner's inquest, that he could not recognize the man who fired the shot. The answer was that he did. This was in contradiction to and an attempt to impeach the testimony of the witness for the state, McLaughlin, who stated that he did recognize the man. The testimony of witness Earl Warren was referred to and an attempt to prove that this witness had impeached himself, but upon the objection of the prosecutor, one of the attorneys for the defense stated that Warren had qualified his statement so that they would attempt to prove his meaning. The prosecutor objected to the attempt of the defense's attorneys which objection was sustained by the court.

Josie Mitchell was an inmate of the place at 115 Railroad street during the shooting. This witness stated that as soon as the shots were fired she went up stairs and in doing so had to pass through one of the rooms of the house from which a door led to the outside, and at this time, after the shots were fired, she saw one of the women letting Kerlin out of the door.

Cross examined by Mr. Fitzgibbon, she was asked regarding Kerlin's presence in the house.

The witness was asked regarding her statements to Mr. Baird and Mr. Glenn, detectives here in the interest of the state. She stated that she had told them that all she knew about the shooting was that she heard the shots. At the same time the witness claimed to know of the arrest of Kerlin. She stated, however, that about two weeks ago, she told Mr. Foster, a detective for the defense, that she had seen Kerlin leaving the house shortly after the shooting which occurred on the outside.

Frank Pfeiffer, boarding at Bowers' boarding house in West Newark, testified that just as the shots were fired he approached the east side door and there passed Kerlin, and the latter said to him, "Who's shooting out there?" and the two started out in front toward where the sounds came from. At this point the witness stated that he walked out toward the street and then followed the Shawnee tracks to a point above the bridge passed along a path through the commons, passed the Wehrle works and over to his home.

The Kerlin murder case was resumed at 3:30 Wednesday morning after adjourning at 4 to Tuesday at the request of the defendant's counsel, in order that the defense be better prepared as to the testimony of the witnesses, which testimony was not quite arranged by the defense owing to the fact that the state finished with its witnesses much sooner than was expected.

Frank H. Moran, a foreman in the polishing department of the Cleveland Foundry company, testified to having known Kerlin for five years, and testified further as to his character and reputation. On cross-examination, the witness proved no intimate knowledge of or acquaintance with Kerlin.

Joseph Miller, proprietor of the Arel hall in Cleveland, where the union meetings were held, stated that Kerlin was known by him in Cleveland and that he (Kerlin) was employed as an assistant business agent of the union for some time. That he knew him and could state as to his good character.

On cross-examination the witness stated that within three years his acquaintance with him was when he visited the saloon run by the witness, or when he met him in the hall of the union.

John J. Kinney of Cleveland, ex-representative from that section of the state, stated that he had known Kerlin for five years. The witness stated that his reputation was good. On cross-examination, the prosecutor brought out the fact that the witness ran a saloon and a hotel, and that Kerlin was only known by him as he called upon him there.

George L. Harris, buyer for the wholesale house of Sullivan & Company in Philadelphia, stated that for twelve years he had known the defendant, and that up until 1901 he had been intimately associated with him in a beneficial association in which he (the witness) was an officer.

John Fulton, of a firm of teamster in Frankfort, a suburb of Philadelphia, was next called as a character witness. He stated that for six years he had known Kerlin intimately.

George S. Holmes, Philadelphia, a plumbing and heating contractor, was next called. He stated that he had known the defendant for 25 years, and testified to his character and reputation.

James W. Patterson of the American Car and Ship Hardware Mfg. Co., of New Castle, Pa., followed as a character witness. He stated that he hired Kerlin to work for him, and was acquainted with him, testifying as to his character.

Earl Gregory was next called and examined by Attorney Mulhollen.

"Where do you live?"

"Pickway, O."

"How long have you resided there?"

"About 20 years."

"Where were you on or about November 12?"

"In Newark, Ohio."

"Do you know a young man named McLaughlin?"

"Yes, sir."

"Where did you first get acquainted with him?"

"At the Wehrle foundry where we were working."

"Where were you on the night of November 12?"

"In bed, at my boarding house, Powers' boarding house on West Main street."

"I'll ask you if on that night between 12 and 1 o'clock you heard McLaughlin, upon being asked if he could identify the man who did the shooting, say that he did not think he could?"

"Yes, sir, I did."

Cross-examined by Attorney Fitzgibbon. The witness was asked as to his business and boarding place while here. In questioning the witness about a matter very indirectly bearing upon the murder case, he became somewhat contradictory.

John F. May of Cleveland, residing in this city at the time of the shooting, was called. He stated that while coming from Gus Kerns' saloon he heard the shot fired, and went at once to Sixth street. He stated that on his way he met a man named Molinski. This matter was dropped and Attorney Mulhollen asked the witness regarding McLaughlin. McLaughlin, (the witness who identified Kerlin as the man who he believed did the shooting) said, according to this witness that Kerlin did not do the shooting, but that Molinski did.

"What is your other name?"

"Why—I don't know."

"You don't know? Isn't it Zelinski?"

"Why, that's what they called me around here for a while."

"How long?"

"For about two months."

"You were employed at Wehrle and furnished information for the union on the outside, weren't you, Mr. May, or Zelinski?"

"Yes, sir, May."

"When did you assume the name of Zelinski?"

"No, until after I was arrested."

"Kerlin was employed there and engaged in doing the same thing—furnishing information for the union wasn't he?"

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Increasing Among Women, But Sufferers Need Not Despair

THE BEST ADVICE IS FREE

Of all the diseases known, with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal, and statistics show that this disease is on the increase among women.

Mrs. Emma Sawyer

Unless early and correct treatment is applied the patient seldom survives when once the disease is fastened upon her. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most efficient treatment for chronic kidney troubles of women, and is the only medicine especially prepared for this purpose.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, frequent, painful or scalding urination, swelling of limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys or notices a sediment in the urine, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it may be the means of saving her life.

For proof, read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Sawyer.

"I cannot express the terrible suffering I had to endure. A derangement of the female organs developed nervous prostration and serious kidney trouble. The doctor attended me for a year, but I kept getting worse, until I was unable to do anything, and I made up my mind I could not live. I finally decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and I am today a well woman. I cannot praise it too highly, and I sell every suffering woman about my case."

—Mrs. Emma Sawyer, Conyer, Ga.

Mrs. Pinkham gives free advice to women; address in confidence, Lynn, Mass.

"Yes, sir, he was employed there."

"Well, you know that he was furnishing information outside?"

"Yes, sir."

The witness was asked regarding the manner in which he happened to come to this city. He stated that he had known Kerlin in Cleveland. The witness said that he was a Polisher, and that his father's name was May. He stated that he came to be called Zelinski because of some tickets bearing that name, which had been given him by a friend named Jacobs. He stated further that he had never read the tickets with enough attention to know what they really were. Cross-examination of this witness was not the most fortunate for the defense.

John Hill of Portsmouth, O., who was the first to reach Higgins' body, was placed upon the stand. He testified that he saw Higgins fall, and that he heard McLaughlin say: "I wish I knew who the ——— was who let that shot."

Prosecutor Fitzgibbon cross-examined the witness regarding the accuracy of distances, in his statements, from the street to the house. The witness claimed that from Walnut street across the tracks he saw the boy's feet, stating that six shots were fired, two together, followed by four others. The cross-examination of this witness was highly technical, and evidently designed to confuse the witness, but was not so confusing as with some of the other witnesses.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

Tuesday afternoon C. F. Baker was again placed upon the stand and examined by Prosecutor Fitzgibbon, after which Attorney P. B. Smythe questioned the witness closely regarding his statements to Officer McClure, and his conversation, at the noon adjournment, with Capt. A. A. Kraver.

Earl Warren was next called. Warren was one of the party with Higgins before the trouble which caused his death. He stated that he resided in Delaware, but had been employed at the Wehrle works during the strike.

He stated that he had been stopped by the strikers several times but had never had serious trouble with them. The prosecutor questioned the witness concerning his actions up to the hour of the crime.

"When you got in the front yard what was done?"

"A fellow came over from the east side of the yard, and said: 'You let those men there.' Then he said: 'Have fellows of you got anything on you?' Higgins said: 'No,' and that was all I heard him say. When he fired the first shot I ran across the street toward the entrance to the yard."

The witness was asked by the prosecution to describe the man who shot, which he did. When asked how he compared with Kerlin the witness said: "He looked very much like him, only he seemed to be taller."

On cross-examination by Mr. Mulhollen, the witness Warren said that he observed "two" men the one further east in the yard. The dress of the accused man at the time of the shooting was discussed.

Prosecutor Fitzgibbon conducted the "re-direct" examination, which was brief.

John Long of Newark was next called by the state.

"What were you engaged in during the early summer and the fall of last year?"

"I was polishing at the Wehrle foundry."

The witness testified to the acquaintance of Higgins.

"When you left the Wehrle foundry the night of the crime, where did you go?"

"To May Miller's."

"Where next?"

"To the Pike."

"Why did you leave the Pike?"

"We were ordered out."

"Why were you ordered out?"

"It was after 12 o'clock and closing time."

"Did you notice who was doing this shooting?"

"I didn't see him at the time the shots were fired."

"Did you see anyone?"

"Yes, sir."

"Where?"

"On the porch."

"Where on the porch and in what position?"

"On the west end of the porch close to the window."

"Did that man in any way resemble this defendant, Kerlin?"

"No, I don't think he did. I couldn't recognize his face."

On cross-examination, this witness stated that he had not seen Kerlin in the house on the evening of the crime to recognize him.

Officer McClure was called, and told of hearing the shooting. He stated that he started down the tracks and met Warren running. He stopped him and took him back past the "Pike" saloon, crossed over and went up to the Sixth street crossing where he telephoned for the coroner. He then arrested Kerlin, searched him, and sent him in charge of Officer Swank to the police station.

Cross-examination by Attorney P. B. Smythe.

"You're familiar with the surroundings down there aren't you?"

"Yes, sir."

The witness was then shown pictures of the premises, and marked to be exhibited as evidence. To this the prosecutor objected, "most strenuously," stating that a great deal depended upon the position of the camera. The prosecutor's objection was overruled by the court and the photographs identified by the officer.

Officer Swank was next called to the witness stand.

"Where were you on November last when you heard these shots?"

"I was at Kerns' restaurant."

"Where did you go?"

"I went to the 'Pike' and then over to the crossing where I found a man lying there dead."

"Was Officer McClure there?"

"Yes, he and Kerlin."

"Was Kerlin under arrest at that time?"

"Yes, sir."

Following a short recess Dr. Stedem, one of the examining physicians, was called. He described the course of the two bullets, stating as follows:

"I got both bullets. The last wound, the one going from the middle of the back, was necessarily fatal, due to striking the heart, and the rapid loss of blood which ensued."

By P. B. Smythe: "Doctor, isn't it true that you did not see this body until long after the shooting?"

"About two days after the shooting, I believe."

It was stated by the doctor that an incision was found in the femoral artery, which under ordinary circumstances would cause death within from two to five minutes. The bullets taken from the body of the man Higgins were identified by the doctor.

Dr. P. E. Barnes, acting coroner at the time, was next called.

"I will ask you to state the condition of the body."

"There were two bullet wounds in the body. One near the collar bone and another about the ninth rib. The man was dead, but had been dead only a short time, as the body was quite warm."

"I will ask you to state which of these wounds, in your opinion, was mortal?"

"The one that entered about the ninth rib, passed upward and forward, through the pleura, through the left lung and then through the pericardium, or sack containing the heart."

Cross-examined by Attorney Phil Smythe, briefly.

Officer Charles Swank was recalled and examined briefly regarding his talk with the prisoner.

At 1:15, much to the surprise of the court, the state rested, and a large number of witnesses were sworn for the defense. Samuel Y. Doud of Elwood City, Penn., a character witness, was called as the first by the defense. This witness stated that he had known Kerlin "going on two years," and testified to his good character.

George W. Stone, a hotel keeper of Elwood, Pa., was next called and testified as to Kerlin's character.

On cross-examination the witness stated that from his acquaintance of four, five or six months, he testified to the character of the prisoner.

NEWARK RELATIVES SAFE.

Captain and Mrs. F. G. Steele received a telegram on Wednesday from San Francisco, conveying the pleasing intelligence that Mrs. Steele's brother, Mr. Arthur Robinson, and his wife, are safe. The message was filed on Saturday, but did not reach Newark, until Wednesday on account of the crippled condition of the telegraph service.

A message has been received from Mrs. Dewey, wife of Mr. J. K. Dewey, who has been visiting her mother in San Francisco, saying that all are well. The message was sent last Friday and a letter mailed at the same time would have reached here just as soon.

Among these in Newark who have been anxiously awaiting news concerning relatives and friends in San Francisco is Mr. John L. Vanatta, the well known blacksmith of this city. Mr. Vanatta's son, Frank, who is well known in Newark, has been a resident of one of the interurban roads running out of that place. Mr. Vanatta's brother, George Vanatta, with his family, also reside in San Francisco. As yet no word has been received from them, but for this reason Mr. Vanatta thinks they are all safe.

BRING EVIDENCE AGAINST DOCTOR

GRANVILLE WOMEN ACCUSE A PHYSICIAN OF MISCONDUCT WHICH IS DENIED.

State Medical Board, With Power to Revoke License, Devotes Hours to Testimony.

GRANVILLE, O., April 25.—(Special to the Newark Daily Advocate.)—The state board of medical examination and registration listened from 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon until midnight, with a short interval for dinner to the statement of charges affecting the moral conduct of Dr. J. D. Thompson of Granville.

The bringing of the charges has divided the people of Granville into practically two hostile camps.

Secularism, too, appears to be a factor in the dispute, which has grown to the proportions of a town scandal.

Dr. C. L. Work, pastor of the Presbyterian church of the village, and formerly pastor of one of the largest churches in Cincinnati, appeared as the prosecuting witness.

In defense of Dr. Thompson appeared quite a number of the foremost and most reputable citizens of Granville. These defenders included Superintendent John H. Sample, of the Pennsylvania railroad, Myron Ashbrook of Johnstown, Professor Calvin, Professor Chamberlain, Professor Gilpatrick and other members of the faculty of Denison university.

The board heard the long recitals of testimony from some 30 witnesses, men and women, and, worn out, ad-

Journal at midnight, reserving the decision of the case for the July meeting.

There were submitted the affidavits of seven women—two widows, a maid and four matrons—alleging improper conduct.

The women are of unquestionable standing and repute, one being a daughter of Dr. Work. Edward L. Jones, the father of another of the witnesses, Squire Malone, and other well known citizens accompanied the women accusers of the doctor. The women gave verbal testimony in addition to their affidavits and were closely cross examined by Judge J. D. Jones of Newark, counsel for Dr. Thompson. Judge Samuel M. Brown of Newark, represented Dr. Work, who was present.

Witnesses in defense of the physician brought out that current rumors had been thoroughly investigated by the faculty of Denison university, which had exonerated him and permitted him to continue his professional services to students at the university. Dr. Thompson also continued to be the family physician of some of the professors.

BECAUSE

The Painter Told Her Husband Mrs. Howard Gould Refuses to Pay Him and Is Sued.

New York, April 25.—Mrs. Katherine Gould, wife of Howard Gould, is the defendant in a suit which was called for trial before Justice Greenbaum in the Supreme court Tuesday. She is sued by Henry Jones Thaddeus, a portrait painter, to recover $5,000, the value of a picture of her which he alleges he painted at her request, but which she refused to accept.

Mrs. Gould in her answer, denies she has any knowledge sufficient to enable her to form a belief as to whether the plaintiff is either an artist or portrait painter. She admits that she conceived the idea of having her portrait painted, intending to surprise her husband by presenting it to him, and says Thaddeus called on her and she engaged him to paint her picture at full length.

He was, she alleges, to keep the fact that he was painting her picture a secret from everybody, and especially from Mr. Gould, but that instead of so doing he told several persons and at last Mr. Gould himself. This conduct on his part, she contends, was a violation of their agreement.

Telegraph Operator Tells How He Caught the B. & O. in Alleged Discrimination.

Washington, April 25.—How the B. & O. railroad is alleged to discriminate against independent coal operators along its lines was shown Tuesday before the interstate commerce commission during the investigation of the so-called combine the bituminous coal carrying roads.

Special interest was added to the afternoon's testimony by Daniel Howard's story of how he discovered the B. & O.'s alleged attempt to discriminate against him in the matter of rates.

Mr. Howard is manager of the O'Gara Coal Mining company, which has a mine on the B. & O. lines six or seven miles west of Clarkburg, W. Va. He said that he never got anything near a full supply of cars and never a fair proportion of the cars distributed in his region. One day he was standing in the trainmaster's office at Grafton.

"I am a telegraph operator," said Mr. Howard, "and when the key began to tick I began to listen. I found it was an order to the trainmaster telling him in the distribution of cars that day to give the preference to the Fairmount and Clark mines. It was signed 'U. B. W.' That means U. B. Williams, the superintendent of the Monongah division of the B. & O."

"I went down to those two mines that day and took a memorandum of the cars they got, and then wrote for three days, general superintendent of transportation of the B. & O. about it. He replied saying that he recognized that I went about getting my information in that way, as his office was always glad to give me any information I might want, but he admitted the correctness of what I wrote him. After that I got a fairer proportion of cars."

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowing-out of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulbs. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all authorities that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.
